

A SERVICE WITHOUT CHARGE

How do you do it? said one of the telephone callers on one of the four busy lines that reach into The Herald office—after she had been given the football scores from all parts of the United States on Saturday. It is an easy question to answer. The Herald is a member of The Associated Press which furnishes by wire to the big Boston papers and four newspapers in New Hampshire—Nashua, Manchester, Concord, and The Herald. It is the news service of the world and recognized without a competitor. It is through the A. P. that The Herald serves you. All the news is copyrighted and members of our staff furnish the information to thousands. Expense? Yes, it costs The Herald a good sum every time these bulletins are displayed. It takes people to handle the wires. It is a pleasure. It is the only service of the kind that has ever been rendered here.

COURT DECIDES IN FAVOR OF F. A. MOULTON

Case Was Retried in Last Session of the Superior Court

The case of Frank S. Moulton against Charles S. Langley and Mary Langley which was tried in the superior court last year and which later went to the supreme court on the question of liability and damages, has been decided by the supreme court in favor of Moulton who was awarded the sum of $1500 by the jury when the case was retried. The supreme court agrees that the superior court verdict stands, but sets aside the matter of damages as far as one of the defendants, Mary Langley, is concerned.

York County Authorities Hold Investigation of Accident Which Caused Death of Harry DeRochemont--Driver Murray in Serious Condition

As the result of an investigation made on Monday by the York county authorities into the accident which caused the death of Harry DeRochemont of this city at York on Sunday, an order has been issued for the arrest of Private John Murray, U. S. A., who was driving the army truck when it went off the road and turned over. The authorities claim that Murray was under the influence of liquor and that a bottle of alcohol was found in his pocket when he was brought into the York Hospital. A companion of young DeRochemont who was with him but escaped injury, also was questioned as to the condition of the driver. The two boys who were riding had not noticed that Murray had been drinking. Murray is confined to the York hospital and his condition is much more serious than was first stated. His condition on Monday was such that the physicians think that his lung has been punctured by one of his broken ribs. An x-ray also disclosed that his right hip is fractured so that he will be confined to the hospital for some time. Deputy Sheriff Marshall last night had not received the warrant for his arrest and owing to his serious condition it may be held up until he is out of danger.

PROPOSED FLORIDA TRIP HAS SUDDEN ENDING

The proposed trip by automobile to Florida of a party of local young men was frustrated when the police stepped in and arrested members of the party on charges of stealing automobile tires from the Hislop garage. The discovery that the tires were missing was communicated to the police and the party was arrested in Smithtown after a thrilling chase.

Report He Has Secured Passports and Will Return to Germany--Berlin Denies That He Has Been Authorized to Come Back--England Trusts to Holland to Prevent Move

(By Associated Press)

Brussels, Nov. 13.—William Hohenzollern, former emperor of Germany, was again a figure commanding world attention today as the governments of the Powers made efforts to learn more of his reported plan for returning to the Fatherland. Equipped with passports for himself and members of his suite the ex-Kaiser is said by a local newspaper to be prepared to establish either himself or his son, the former crown prince Frederic William, on the throne of the empire on Dec. 4.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—It is officially denied here that former Emperor William has been authorized to return to Germany.

London, Nov. 13.—The British government officially reiterated this afternoon that they were entirely satisfied with the adequacy of the assurance given by Holland that ex-Emperor William would not be allowed to leave Dutch custody. They say that up to the moment they have no reason to suppose the former war lord proposes to decamp and if he has such an intention they are confident the Dutch government, in view of its pledge, will frustrate the attempt.

Frederic William, who was supposed to have headed for his estate here when he left Dutch territory last Saturday had not put himself in evidence in these parts up to 1 o'clock.

ARMY WANTS BIG NAVY AIRSHIPS

Washington, Nov. 12.—A controversy, smouldering some months, has flared up between the branches of service aviation and threatens to find its way into Congress this winter, centering at present over the insistence of the army air service that one or both the giant rigid air ships of the navy—the Shenandoah and the ZR-3—be allocated to the army fliers.

The ZR-3 is nearing completion in Germany, and is scheduled to be brought to this country early in 1924. The naval air service has been just as insistently fighting the proposal to transfer either of these air liners to the army. Back of this, however, is a more vital question, the solution of which is essential to the national defense, and will have a direct bearing on the future appropriations and development of aviation in the two services. It is based on the contention of the air service of the army that it be charged with all coastal protection, including coastal patrol, and that rigid airships should be part of its military equipment.

Months ago the joint army and navy board undertook the work of formulating a concrete program for coast defense in the light of the development in the last few years of aviation. Its report is ready for submission to Secretaries Weeks and Denby and to the President.

The board's solution of the problem is understood to provide for the maximum development of naval aviation for fleet operation with the necessary shore establishments.

FRANCE TO BE WHOLLY RESTORED BY 1926

Paris, Nov. 12.—Complete reconstruction of the regions of France devastated in the World War is planned by the end of 1926. The ministry of finance in its proposals for the budget credits next year contemplates the issuance of 5,000,000,000 francs in credit national bonds, 2,000,000,000 francs in national defence bonds and 1,000,000,000 francs as a fund to pay the expense of collective loans floated by the devastated areas themselves.

These loans together with a number of other measures contemplated would make available more than 9,000,000,000 francs for payment, and if continued three years would, with the loans floated privately by the devastated regions under the government's guarantee, rebuild the ravaged districts by the end of that time. Most of the payments as in the past would be in bonds, but small claims would be paid partly in cash.

MIDDIES MUST WORK BELOW DECK

Washington, Nov. 13.—There is sad news for the Annapolis midshipmen in a report just submitted to the department by Rear Admiral Newton A. McCully, commanding the scouting fleet.

Indicating his opinion that the average academy student does not acquire the familiarity he should with things below decks, the admiral recommended that on future practice cruises the regular crews of all training ships be replaced by middies.

The suggestion was met with the objection that the morale of the regulars might suffer by their being left ashore so long, but Admiral McCully believes this can be avoided if the men spend the period in taking up trade courses at the Hampton Roads base schools.

BLOCK CAPTIVE'S LEAP OVERBOARD

New York, Nov. 12.—A unique man hunt aboard the steamship Manchuk ended early today when Albert Rosenberg, who escaped from a cabin of four days ago and secreted himself "down below," appeared on deck at attempted to dive over the side as the vessel stood at the pier. Rosenberg was being returned to the United States to face a Federal charge of tampering with registered United States mail while master-at-arms of the Minnekahda.

After his escape from the cubby hole Rosenberg hid himself so well that all the ship's company and a corps of postal inspectors who boarded the ship at quarantine yesterday could not find him. Intercepted in his attempt to leap to safety today, he refused to tell where he had been hiding. He was taken to jail.

WILL EXTEND NAVAL TREATY

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 12.—The hoped-for extension of the principles of the Washington naval treaty embracing all countries in its scope whether they are members of the League of Nations or not, and this will be dealt with at the preliminary meeting to be held at Geneva Jan. 21 next, under the auspices of the League of Nations naval commission. The move is founded on the idea that the principles laid down in the Washington treaty should be applied to states possessing navies who did not participate in the Washington convention.

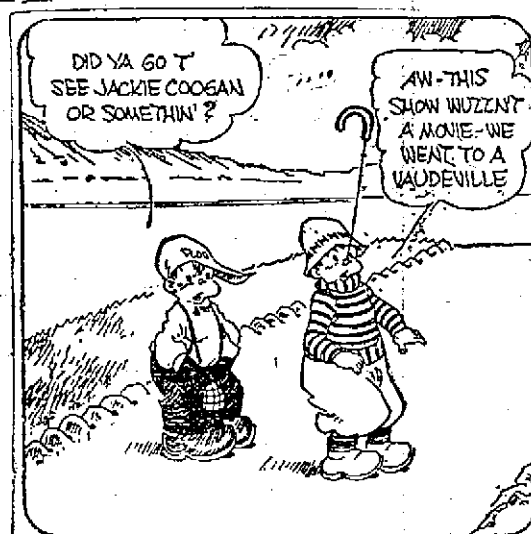

The naval commission comprises representatives of Brazil, Spain, France, England, Italy, Japan and Sweden. The countries invited to attend the meeting include Argentina, Chile, Denmark, Greece, Norway, Holland, Russia and Turkey. These are the countries, non-signatories of the Washington convention, which possess warships fulfilling the definition given at Washington of capital ships, that is ships having a displacement of more than 10,000 tons or carrying guns of more than 203 millimeters.

UNITED STATES DROPS TO SIXTH PLACE IN WORLD SHIPBUILDING

(By Associated Press)

Washington.—The United States has dropped from first to sixth place among the shipbuilding nations of the world in the last four years, the Department of Commerce states. Not only Great Britain and Germany, but also Italy, France and the Netherlands are building more tonnage than the United States, according to returns for the quarter ended with September. World construction at the close of that quarter was smaller than at any time since the war and represents a decline of 165,000 gross tons in comparison with the quarter ended with June.

Tree Surgery

There was a time when John Davey of Kent, Ohio, was known, within his limited range, as a queer but harmless enthusiast who imagined that surgery could be practiced on trees the same as on people. When he died the other day, he was recognized all over America as "the father of tree surgery." Thousands were applying every day the principles he taught and millions recognized their value.

Why not? A tree, as Mr. Davey was accustomed to pointing out, grows much like a man, has somewhat similar diseases, and may be cured of wounds and infections in much the same way. It seems strange now to look back to the time when most people, in trimming trees, lopped off the branches in the old way instead of leaving clean wounds, close to the trunk, so that the live wood and bark could grow over them easily, and covering them with paint or tar to keep out infection while the sore was healing. It seems no less strange to ignore the now obvious fact that there is a rotten place in an otherwise good tree, the thing to do is to dig out the dead wood as a dentist digs out a decayed tooth, and fill the hole with cement in true dentist fashion. Eventually these things and many more will be matters of commonplace knowledge and practice, in city and country alike.

The great thing about John Davey's work however, was not the scientific part. He cared for trees professionally because he cared for them in his heart. From his ministrations there has spread about a far greater love of trees simply for what they are, in beauty of form, color and character, aside from their purely economic value. That is the important thing. The man or woman who loves trees will tend them and cure their sickness and make them grow. There are few kinds of love bringing a more satisfactory return.

The Columbus Film

That history is as interesting and as full of human drama as fiction is not so generally realized as it would be if the textbooks were less dry and the classroom presentation of the subject were handled differently. It is possible that this realization will be greatly hastened by the "Chronicles of America" movies which are now being produced, sponsored by the Yale University Press and released through the Pathe organization.

The first group of these historical films is called "The Morning of America," and the first picture in that group is "Columbus." This picture has already begun its career on the screen. Its truthfulness and interest are so pronounced as to argue well for the many pictures still to come. It is said to have "extreme fidelity to detail as regards customs, costumes, settings and the like." More than 30 college professors and historians have collaborated in assembling the facts used. Stirring narrative, good acting, history enticingly told are the outstanding characteristics of the Columbus film.

Librarians know that the movies stimulate reading of books. Such a thoroughly fine presentation of the great dramas of American history should stimulate the writing of better histories and the making of better movies. What can be done with facts as a background ought to be equally possible with fiction and drama as a foundation.

Bored By Leisure

An interesting situation is found in the steel plants, among the employees whose hours have been reduced from twelve to eight. Most of the men are said to be 'tickled to death' by the new arrangement. They are the men with homes. The homeless, who are mostly foreigners, would rather spend their time in the plants working than hang around their lodging houses.

That difficulty may be straightened out by an easy and natural process. With their new leisure, in lieu of anything else to occupy their time, those bored young bachelors may start looking around for female companionship and end in the inevitable bonds of matrimony. Then, having homes, they will like the short working day and make suitable use of it.

It is leisure, wisely used, that makes human progress. It is to gain leisure and the things which may be done with leisure that most men work. Real homes are impossible without it. And surely there is no better use to which leisure may be put than the making of a home and the personal rearing of a family.

With the aid of a re-broadcasting device at Honolulu, radio fans in the Hawaiian Islands have heard programs from Kansas City. The islands should feel justified in retaliating with a ukulele program.

The framers of the Constitution intended congress to be a useful branch of the government, but they left it to the public to make their intentions effective.

To many a war veteran that government surplus looks wonderfully like a heaven-sent piece of adjusted compensation.

Since Mrs. Lloyd George visited the country, something tells us that there is going to be an epidemic of "dames."

Can it be that Poincare doesn't want the reparation facts disclosed?

AND NAVY YARDS

Expecting Bureau Chief
Rear Admiral Luther E. Gregory, U. S. N., chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, is expected to arrive in Portsmouth tonight and on Wednesday make an inspection of the oil storage system under construction and other work which comes under the bureau.

The proposed 50 per cent cut in the working force of the Charlestown yard will very likely be held up for the present at least, according to reports from Washington given out at Mayor Curley's office on Monday.

The mayor's attention was called to the situation by a delegation that visited him in City Hall, explaining that the reduction could be averted only by immediate action. They said the Charlestown yard wished to have a chance to bid on the reconditioning of five vessels for the United States shipping board.

A week ago the call for bids was received at the Charlestown yard. As the bids were to be closed at the New York office of the board next Wednesday, the delegation claimed the time was too short for the yard to study the plans and specifications and make a proper bid for at least one of the ships.

President Coolidge, through his secretary, dispatched an answer to the telegram of Mayor Curley and received an answer yesterday, stating the request for an extension of three weeks in the making of bids will be brought immediately to the attention of the shipping board.

EXETER POLICE COURT HAS A BUSY SESSION

Exeter, Nov. 13.—Ten respondents, the largest number for many years, appeared in municipal court yesterday and the aggregate fines and costs amounted to about $150.

The heaviest fine was imposed on George H. Shipley of Portland, Me. who was brought to Exeter by Seabrook officers and charged with reckless driving of his automobile on the Lafayette road in Seabrook. He was going at such a rate of speed that he failed to make a curve and crashed into a fence, taking about 40 yards of it, smashing his automobile, but escaping injury.

MUCH INTEREST
BEING SHOWN IN MEETING

The opportunity to hear the addresses by President J. H. Hustis of the Boston & Maine railroad and other officials at the Rockingham hotel tomorrow evidently is being taken advantage of by many citizens, both members and non-members of the chamber of commerce for the reservations show an unusually fine list.

This will be the first talk on Railroad Consolidation in New Hampshire by the president of the road, and interested men and women are coming here from many cities in this state and Maine. Calls for seats have been heavy all day and you are advised to phone 970 at once so you may find accommodations tomorrow night. The office will be open until 6 p. m. so you can send in your name.

Many inquiries are made as to whether women are coming, and the answer is yes, by all means, and many men are bringing their wives and grown children. The meeting will be the finest arranged by any organization in this city.

The High School Orchestra, directed by Ernest Eiblbruck, will have a place in the ball room and play during the dinner. Special music has been arranged and this alone will be a big feature.

During the serving of the dinner President Seyboit will call on 22 chairmen of committees during the past year to give short reports. Everything is being done to show the railroad officials that Portsmouth has real community spirit and is doing everything possible to merit recognition by the railroad in its plans for future developments and improvements.

Louis Shapiro and the officials of the Rumery Co. will have a special table.

START GRAMMAR SCHOOL LEAGUE

The boys in the grammar school class at the Y. M. C. A. started their athletic league Monday afternoon. More than sixty per cent of the group enrollment were present, which speaks well for the future of the league. The boys were very enthusiastic over their first days efforts, entering into the spirit of the initial event wholeheartedly.

Four teams, composed of all the boys in the grammar school membership, constitute the league. Each team has a captain or leader, who with an assistant is responsible for the conduct and work of the team. When a new member joins, he is assigned to one of the teams, and is made to feel at home.

A variety of events have been chosen to run throughout the present gym season. These include novelty relay races, field and track events and performance on various pieces of apparatus. Provision has also been made for hikes, other out of door events, participation in boy's club activities and Bible class.

A point system has been established, whereby a boy receives recognition for his efforts along different lines. Through attendance on gym class and Bible class, participation in the events of the day, good conduct, new members and many other methods, it is possible for him to continually increase his total number of points. Such boys as secure the best average for the month will have their names placed upon the honor roll. At the gym boys supper to be held at the end of the season, those boys who have their names oftenest on this honor roll will be the recipients of suitable prizes.

All boys of grammar school age, who wish to enter the league may do so at any time. There is no time limit.

THE HERALD WILL CONDUCT UNIQUE CONTEST

The Herald will shortly inaugurate a contest by which Herald readers may determine just how well they know their fellow townsmen. Silhouettes of prominent Portsmouth business and professional men and women will be printed daily and the readers will be asked to guess who they are. One is printed as a sample today in an announcement in another part of the paper. This is the silhouette of a prominent local merchant. How many can identify him? The Herald has a large number of these silhouettes on hand made by its special employed artist, and it is expected that the contest will arouse much interest. Further announcements concerning the rules of the contest will be announced later.

MANY CITIES INTERESTED IN LOCAL FACTORY

Work on the new factory building on McDonough street is certainly progressing beyond all expectations and many visitors to the grounds daily are amazed to find the size of concrete that is actually being poured into place now. The Rumery Company is making every effort to get the concrete work done before real cold weather starts.

That the local proposition is creating nation-wide interest is quite evident as the National Chamber of Commerce carried an account of it in their recent November bulletin and as many places have asked for details and at the same time complimented the local chamber on its very progressive work. Letters received in one mail brought inquiries from the following cities, which have been trying for some time to start a community factor, namely: Lynchburg, Va.; Williamson, West Va.; Clinton, Indiana; Bellafontaine, Ohio; St. Mary's, Ohio; Bay City, Mich.; Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Work was started this morning on the big sign to be erected on the old house facing the railroad tracks, which will be viewed by passengers on all trains. The sign will bear this inscription, "Watch Portsmouth Grow."

Madam! We offer you a NEW DRINK!

YOU will be surprised when we tell you this new drink is tea. "Why, I have been drinking tea for years," you say.

Let's see if you have. Look at the recipe for making tea given below. Is that the way you make it? If it is, you know the real flavor of tea—if not, you never have tasted tea.

Tea made the right way is the world's most delightful drink—without exception. You will prefer it over any other drink—nothing else will so comfort and refresh you.

Make a pot of tea from this recipe. The first cup will prove that we have truly introduced you to a new drink.

Let Tetley Help
All tea is not alike. Crops from many different gardens must be blended to produce the tea you buy. Your enjoyment of tea depends upon what brand you buy—upon the packer's ability to secure the finest crops, upon the skill and accuracy with which these teas are blended. Because Tetley's ability to do these things is unequalled, Tetley's Orange Pekoe Tea is the choice of discriminating tea drinkers the world over.

The right way to make tea.
Rise out teapot with boiling water. Put one teaspoonful of tea in pot for each cup of tea.
Pour freshly boiled, bubbling water on the tea-leaves.
Steep for five or six minutes.
Always serve with milk or cream.
One pound of Tetley's Tea makes 300 cups.

Get health—Keep health—Feel fine by eating Kellogg's Bran regularly!

Constipation and the toxic poisonings that come from it not only take the enthusiasm out of life, making you depressed and physically and mentally dull—but they head you into diseases such as Bright's, diabetes, rheumatism, etc. You can actually rid yourself of these dangers if you will EAT KELLOGG'S BRAN REGULARLY!—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with every meal!

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that as no other food can! Don't take a chance of "getting away" with constipation—IT WILL GET YOU! Don't ruin your health with pills and cathartics—they are as dangerous as constipation itself and give but temporary relief, at the very best!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN.

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

PROTESTS AGAINST YARD NOT GETTING WORK

Washington, Nov. 13—President Coolidge and the shipping board have received sharp protests from Congressmen Dallinger of Cambridge against the insufficient time allowed the Charlestown navy yard to submit bids or estimates on the cost of reconditioning five of the board's vessels. The shipping board's announcement that the navy yard organization would have opportunity to submit estimates was received in Charlestown Nov. 5. The bids on the work from private contractors or estimates from government yards must be before the board by Wednesday, Dec. 14.

This allowed the Charlestown organization eight working days to study a mass of specifications for five ships, an unusually brief notice, according to Dallinger, who said that, considering the time taken to study the specifications and get them to Washington, the notice did not give the navy yard organization more than five days to make estimates.

The long-standing reluctance of the shipping board to send any important work to the Charlestown navy yard is recalled by Dallinger, who has protested to the President on the theory that if the board refuses to grant more time to prepare estimates, the President's attention will be directed to what Dallinger and other members of the delegation regard as discrimination against the Charlestown yard.

Officials of the board have informed Congressman Dallinger's office that the work had to be "rushed."

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS EXETER ON SATURDAY

The high school squad was given a rest on Monday and this afternoon began work for the Exeter high game next Saturday. This game will be played in the forenoon and the team will take in the Exeter and Andover game in the afternoon, which this year is being played in Exeter.

There were no new injuries as the result of the game, and in addition some of those who were out of the game on Saturday will be fit to work in the Exeter game.

Coach Jordan is not allowing the team to take Exeter high too lightly. The team last year in baseball took this attitude with a fatal result and no chances are to be taken for a repeat in football. The team made a much better showing on Saturday than in any game this year, especially with the number of second string men that were in.

The line was much better and there was better team work and it gives the impression that the team is now coming to the top of its game, or should be by the time of the Manchester game on Saturday, the 24th.

The published statement of the receipts of the game should awaken the city council, the board of public works and the school department to the need of providing some place where the athletic sports of the school can be conducted on the business basis that it is in all other schools. It will require but the expenditure of a few hundred dollars to create a proper field on the Armory side of the playgrounds, and to enclose it with a fence such as lines Junkins avenue. This kind of a fence will serve as canvas can be put on near the road and then those who witness the game will have to pay.

The box workers in Haverhill, Mass., are to receive an increase of eight to 20 percent in accordance with a new agreement made between the workers and the managements of the shops.

construction work has begun on a group of radio stations in China, which, according to officials of the Radio Corporation of America, will be the most powerful radio group in the world. The announcement was made coincident with the departure for China of R. P. Schwerin, president of the Federal Telegraph Company of Delaware, which incorporates the Chinese interests of the Federal Telegraph Company of California, and the Radio Corporation of America.

The cost of the Chinese stations will be $13,000,000, and the program calls for their completion within two years. The stations are to be spread over five provinces, with the central station at Shanghai. This will be a 1,000,000 watt station, with seven steel towers 1000 feet high. They are the tallest structures ever designed exceeding in height the Eiffel Tower and the Woolworth building.

Mr. Schwerin, before his departure from this city, said that the Chinese welcomed America's participation with them in providing a new and powerful communication link which, together with the other high power radio circuits in operation will encircle the earth.

STATE DEPARTMENT TOUCHED BY LETTER FROM JAPANESE WOMAN

Washington, Nov. 12—A nameless woman of Japan has thanked "My dear, the people of America," in a letter received by Secretary Hughes, for the relief work administered by Americans in Japan during the period of suffering and hunger which followed the recent fire and earthquake disaster in Tokio and Yokohama.

"How we all Japanese thank you for your great kindness in this time," the letter said. "You gave us all. You sent us much necessary things and you are very kind to us. Our thanks are beyond measure. We all will never forget them hereafter. I am only a nameless woman. But I must write you this, even with such a broken word, as I could not keep secret my thanks. Please excuse my impolite."

"Hoping you are happy and peaceful for ever and thanking for your great kindness."

ARMY NEEDS 150 RADIO MEN; NEW STATION IN MID-WEST

Washington, Nov. 12—Establishment of the radio system by which the War Department is relying more and more on wireless for direct communication with corps commanders in the field has caused such a demand for signal corps personnel that there is a shortage of approximately 150 men.

Major General Squier, chief of the Signal Corps, in his annual report to the Secretary of War, says the steadily increasing amount of official radio traffic handled by the system, now aggregating more than $7000 in messages a month, has served to indicate essential weaknesses.

"The critical shortage of enlisted operating personnel," says General Squier, "is most prominent, making impossible the maintenance of twenty-four-hour service at several of the most important stations. Handling this large amount of traffic has also brought to light certain inadequacies in radio plants which could not be foreseen when the radio net was initially established. Those weaknesses are, to a large extent, being rectified by the installation at Fort Leavenworth of a modern semi-high-powered transmitter which will provide direct communication with Washington, with a similar station at Fort Douglas, Utah, and with Fort Sam Houston, thus eliminating several intermediate relay stations and materially speeding up traffic. A large percentage of the traffic between Washington and Fort Sam Houston has of necessity been handled heretofore by commercial telegraph, but with the completion of the Fort Leavenworth station this traffic will all be handled by radio."

"The total traffic handled by the War Department radio net and crops area radio nets for the fiscal year amounted to $65,701.63. Since the cost of operation of these stations is properly chargeable to war insurance, the radio traffic handler represents in effect a clear saving of this amount to the government."

The running time from the end of the line in both Elliot and Kittery Point to Portsmouth is 30 minutes. Patrons can judge from this the approximate time of the bus passing any point along the route.

MAYOR HALTS CUT IN NAVY YARD FORCE

Boston, Nov. 12—As a result of Mayor Curley's move to obtain action from Washington for the benefit of workers in Charlestown navy yard, the impending cut of 50 per cent in the working force probably will be prevented. It was stated at the office of the mayor.

The mayor's attention was called to the situation by a delegation that visited him in City Hall, explaining that the reduction could be averted only by immediate action. They said the Charlestown yard wished to have a chance to bid on the reconditioning of five vessels for the United States shipping board.

Nov. 5 the call for bids was received by the navy yard. As the bids were to be closed at the New York office of the board next Wednesday, the delegation claimed the time was too short for the yard to study the plans and specifications and make a proper bid for at least one of the ships.

President Coolidge, through his secretary, dispatched an answer to the telegram of Mayor Curley stating the request for an extension of three weeks in the making of bids will be brought immediately to the attention of the shipping board.

All but one of the houses are moved off the Kittery approach to the new bridge, but the roads on both sides of the land taken are in bad shape. They never were built to stand the traffic that has poured over them since the bridge was built and today they are in a very bad condition.

BOSTON BRAVES

Boston, Nov. 13.—Davey Bancroft, rated the best shortstop in the National League and in recent years captain of the New York Giants, will manage the Boston Braves in 1914. He and Outfielders Casey Stengel and Bill Cunningham come to Boston for outfielder Southworth and pitcher Joe Oeschger.

Fred F. Mitchell has resigned as Tribal chief. The resignation has been in the hands of Christy Mathewson and Judge Emil E. Fuchs, president and vice president of the Braves, for two weeks. Mitchell soon is to enter magnate ranks. He has his eye on several clubs, either to operate them as half owner or as sole owner, and the chances are that he will own a strong class AA team before the New Year.

The big trade, probably the biggest in which the Braves has figured for years, was announced by Judge Fuchs at the Copley Plaza. Matty did not come to Boston. He stayed in New York and ironed out details with Manager John J. McGraw of the Giants and with Bancroft, who still is in New York. Davey had a slight operation on his nose after the World Series. He is recuperating. He will come to Boston within a few days and be shown the ropes by Mitchell.

Bancroft will be the only playing manager in the National league. That he is a shortstop as well as the manager will make him just about the busiest individual in all baseball. He will be shortstop, captain and manager of a team that needs a lot of rebuilding.

RAILROAD NOTES

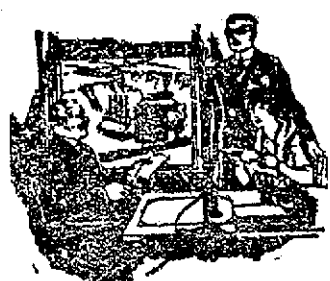

The Boston & Maine has discontinued using the Amoskeag station in Manchester, to a great extent, though a few trains do continue to stop there. It is one of the finest stone structures on the railroad line and is of solid masonry. It has been reported that the road may sell it to private parties but the rumor has not been confirmed.

Over $1,000 has been subscribed by the employees of the Pennsylvania railroad in Philadelphia, in aid of the drive that is being carried on by the Salvation Army in that city.

The Southern Pacific railroad will soon begin laying rails on its new line from Calipatria to Holtville in California. It is expected that the work will be completed in record time.

The Interstate Commerce Commission will begin its hearings on the disagreements that have been brought about on account of the commission's rulings relative to privately owned coal cars. The arguments will be started about Nov. 17.

For the purpose of reviewing the accomplishments in transportation this year, and also to give consideration

The average person is more dependent on the services rendered by the public utility companies than he realizes.

A recent estimate by a competent authority showed that in a certain private home the equivalent of about 15 tons of anthracite coal was used for heating, while the equivalent of about thirteen and one-third tons of bituminous coal came through pipes, wires and the kitchen door in the form of gas service, electrical energy and ice.

Engineers predict that in another generation coal will be seen in only two places—in the museum where it can be examined by school children and at the mines. In those days they say, the words "smoke," "soot," "ashes" will be obsolete and heat units in form of manufactured gas will supplant solid fuel.

WANTS TO HELP
OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored
by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I am willing to write to any girl or woman who is suffering from the troubles I had before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back aches, so I could not go about my household, and I had other troubles from weakness. I was this way for years, then my sister-in-law took the Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me. In the time I have been taking it and it has done wonders for me. I keep house and am able to do lots of work besides."—Mrs. HELEN SEVICK, 2711 Thomas St., Chicago, Ill.

Women suffering from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, pains, bearing-down feelings and weakness should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years this same sort of experience has been reported by thousands of women.

Mrs. Sevick is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from such troubles, and answer any questions they may like to ask.

DOLPHIN IS TO BE TURNED INTO A COAL BARGE

Famous old Dolphin, first vessel of the White Squadron, pride of the navy and erstwhile presidential yacht, has been bought from the government by the Boston Iron & Metal Co. of Baltimore, Md., and now is being scrapped and the hull converted into a coal barge.

This passes from the navy records a vessel that has helped to make history and that has taken part in many stirring events since she was launched in 1884 at the shipyard of John Roach in Chester, Pa.

At first there was considerable criticism of the craft, and it was doubtful whether she would be accepted because of alleged structural weaknesses in her hull. Politics was behind the charges, and the boat, after her builder, had gone into bankruptcy because of the allegations made against him, demonstrated that she was the equal, if not the superior, of any vessel in the navy.

Dolphin was built when Chester A. Arthur was President of the United States and William E. Chandler secretary of the navy. She was nearing completion when the Cleveland administration came into power and repudiated the contracts with the builder.

The ship was in commission for 38 years, and during this long period of active service was a frequent visitor to New England waters.

She was used as the official yacht of the secretary of the navy on inspection trips to the various navy yards. In 1899 Dolphin was damaged in a collision with a ferryboat in New York harbor and was brought to Boston for repairs at the navy yard in Charlestown. She made frequent cruises to the West Indies, and was flagship of the special South American squadron. In 1888 she made a trip around the world.

The crew of Dolphin presented a handsome tablet to the city of Gloucester as the vessel had been a visitor to that port many times and her officers and men had often been entertained there.

On Dec. 8, 1921, Dolphin was placed out of commission at the navy yard here, closing her long active career in the navy. She was used at one time by Admiral George Dewey as his flagship.

A short time ago the ship was purchased from the government by the Boston Iron & Metal Company of Baltimore at a sale of old naval vessels which had outlived their usefulness and were ordered stricken from the navy lists.

It was thought that she would be scrapped for her metal, but word has just come from Baltimore to the effect that the hull was found to be in excellent condition and that in view of this fact it has been decided to remove the upper works and then convert the hull into a coal barge.

So good ship Dolphin, once the pride of the White Squadron, will end her days as a grimy barge trailing at the end of a long hawser behind a tug in the coastwise coal trade.

FINAL MEETING
DIRECTORS

Considerable business was transacted at the final meeting of the present board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce which was held at the Hotel Rockingham yesterday noon. The attendance at these weekly meetings has indeed been remarkable during the past year showing a very high degree of interest on the part of the twelve men who have been devoting their time to the problems of Portsmouth from a community standpoint.

Representatives of New Hampshire in Washington, as well as the Boston Chamber of Commerce were sent resolutions regarding the Cape Cod Canal stating that the opinion of the local directors was that every effort should be made to have this canal cleared and operated by the United States Government.

The New York State Chamber of Commerce is compiling the sentiment of business organizations on arbitration and the local organization yesterday voted to cooperate with them in bringing to the attention of the national government methods to eliminate costly litigation in arbitration.

Both these resolutions were prepared by the legal advisory committee of the chamber and they are preparing just now one to be presented at the annual meeting tomorrow night which will be forwarded to Senator Pepper in regard to the Atlantic Corporation situation. This situation will be brought out so that the Boston & Maine officials can realize local sentiment.

Trustee Harry Philbrook of the Factory Building association gave a complete report of the work being done to date on the factory and his statements were very interesting as they showed that progress has been exceptional in this work.

The new directorate of the Chamber of Commerce will be asked by the retiring board to make a survey of local welfare organizations and the amount expended by them during the course of the year in order to ascertain just how much is spent in this manner in Portsmouth. This survey may furnish the basis of an easier and better way of raising funds for all organizations concerned.

The managing secretary gave a report of his attendance at all sessions of the New England Secretaries Convention held last week in New Hampshire and stated that he addressed the gathering on the local factory situation.

The Yale School of Forestry took very decided steps towards cooperating with the State of New Hampshire on the reforestation situation and had professors address the convention on this matter.

WOMAN'S CLUB
WHIST PARTY

The Woman's City Club held an enjoyable whist party on Monday afternoon and evening at the Woman's Building on Middle street. The rooms were prettily decorated with evergreen and red berries and a good number were in attendance at the gathering.

At the afternoon party the favors were awarded to Mrs. H. E. Philbrook and Mrs. Harry Foote and in the evening the favors were won by Mrs. John Leary and Mrs. I. D. Piercy.

Those present in the evening were particularly fortunate in hearing Chester Grady, who in song and story numbers, accompanied by John Creighton, new corners of the North Hampton colony and who were among the guests at the party. Mr. Grady was one of the sixteen with Elsie Janis who toured from coast to coast to the army bases and hospitals giving entertainment programs during the war, reaching into Victoria and Vancouver. His remarks on experiences on the trips were most interesting.

SEAL HATCHES OF LIQUOR STEAMER

Collector of Customs Awaiting Instructions From the Treasury Department

According to the law, the captain of the Canadian steamship Red Island, with a cargo of liquor in the lower harbor, must enter his ship at the custom office today if he remains in this port. On Monday Deputy Collector H. C. Russell went aboard the ship and placed a government seal on all hatches. Today two of the coast guard men were relieved by two keepers, Elmer E. Clark and Roland Smart who have been assigned to the duty by the custom officials. Deputy Collector Looney of the local customs office, has communicated with the Treasury Department regarding the ship and its cargo and is waiting some instruction from Washington. It is understood that the collector at Portland is of the opinion that the boat and cargo can be held while prohibition officers at Boston hold a different view. Capt. Couett is attempting to have the repairs made on the ship's rudder and one of the pumps.

BOYS ARE VERY EVENLY MATCHED

The betting is even on the match between St. Hilare of Somersworth and "Forky" Diggins of Nashua here tomorrow evening. Both boys are training in Boston, Diggins at the Hayes and Kelley gymnasium and St. Hilare at the McDonald training place. Both have Boston managers and they have had the boys in training for two weeks and they will enter the ring within a few pounds of each other and in perfect condition. As a matter of fact boys of this type are always in condition. They have to be right all the time and any wild living means a loss of bouts, for today they are not allowed to enter a ring unless in fine shape.

The same is true of Young Desautel of Dover and "Kewpie" Roy of Manchester. These are two clean living lads who are always doing a certain amount of work and are always in perfect condition. Roy, who lost to the Dover lad, is very anxious to get a decision and has trained faithfully for this bout and if he loses it will not be on account of lack of condition.

QUEER FIND IN THE CITY DUMP

Grave Marker With Inscription Picked Up By Workmen

Workmen for the city have seen and found many queer things on the South street dump, but they were never more surprised, one day recently, when they picked up a headstone from some cemetery. The stone bore the inscription of Oliver Pettigrew and was broken in two pieces. It measured about 3 feet in length. The workmen are puzzled as to how and why it was deposited on the dump. They removed it to the city yard.

Bert Rosebery and his original Symphony Players of Portland is the musical attraction looked for this year's Barn Dance at Freeman's Hall Thursday evening. Their brand of music delights everyone and a genuine treat is in store for Portsmouth music lovers. Big decorations, prizes, novelties, and a bigger and better time than ever before.
